PHS feet are keeping in step. Feet amble slowly to school in August, but trip lightly when leaving in May. Footsteps are heavy on the way to an important test. Feet in study hall often clomp noisily down the aisle. Teachers' feet walk determinedly to classrooms. The band parades on marching feet. The swift feet of athletes move in a victorious manner. The footsteps of Honor Society inductees are measured. The PHS feet that enter the church for the Maundy Thursday Service step softly. A PHS fellow's footsteps are often nervous enroute to the florist's where he will buy his favorite girl a corsage. The feet of PHS teen-agers weigh heavily on the back of the couch while their owners lengthily converse over the telephone. Yes, PHS footsteps sound different, move in different directions, and walk for different reasons. But one fact is sure: all PHS feet are

STUDENT LIFE

"Keeping in Step" Involved 1350 Hours

The razing of the old junior high building adjoining the senior high school left a wall for workmen to repair and a gaping space where the old building had stood for 65 years.

September, 1963 — the opening of a school year which contained a little bit of everything for all of us at PHS. From that first sight of our friends in the fall until that last parting in May, our school life was full of joy, sorrow, anxiety, love, fear, and hope. Our footsteps traced us through times of excitement, distress, confusion, and celebration. They took us to school, football and basketball games, concerts, club inductions, and auditoriums. Of course, there were trips to Ed's candy stand, passes to see the Deans, and those inevitable walks uptown for cokes. The enthusiasm at the football games, the spirit of the group singing at the Christmas auditorium, the satisfaction of putting on a successful Rodeo, and that final graduation day full of mixed emotions—this was our life at PHS as we were "Keeping In Step."

The "lineup" of homeward-bound school buses is a welcome sight to weary students at the end of the day.

Judging by the ecstatic expressions on the faces of these PHS fans, the Tigers must have just scored a touchdown. The unanimously echoed phrase seems to be a lively "Yeaaaaa!"

Mr. Delph's P. A. Preview Began Our Days

The footsteps of daily life I and my friends followed in many "odds and ends" activities. These included drinking water in the old canteen, cleaning our rooms at the hotel and working in one of the administrative offices having given letters signed and dated, which needed initials and paper. Our time was also spent in running up the stairs to give the girls a little standing room and then to read the letters and tickets bearing over the air line many times. But to get to the point and see the picture of the day when the Beatles visited us.

The many places we've gone, the many things we've done this winter at IAS, the varied work that we have taken on both in reality and in imagination, these are all for a while, but one, and our sister college to mold in ways of life.

We Warmly Welcomed Heidi Christiansen

To Gentlemen and Ladies of PHS:

At the time I want to thank all members of PHS, the School, and the School Board, especially Mr. Lee, for their help to make this year a wonderful year. I hope you will all never forget that Mr. Lee is the one who made the Alaska School Board a better one.

Juniors, Seniors Drew Full Houses

Besides the evening play practices,

This PHS production was original in two respects. "Bve Bve Birdie" was the first musical comedy to be produced by the PHS. It was also the first musical comedy to be produced by the PHS. It was also the first musical comedy to be produced by the PHS.

The story concerns Conrad Birdie, probably more popular than Elvis Presley ever hoped to be, who has been spotted in the area.

With "Bye Bye, Birdie" Production

"Bye Bye, Birdie," a Broadway musical, was presented Friday and Saturday nights, April 24th and 25th. The music for this production was played by the stage band and special accompanists.

Hit songs in the play included "Put on a Happy Face," "One Last Kiss," "What Did I Ever See In Him," "How Lovely to Be a Woman," "One Boy," "Kids," and "Baby, Talk to Me."

The profits were divided between the junior and senior classes. The juniors used their money for the Junior-Senior Prom, and the seniors used theirs for the traditional senior gift to the school.

"Outside my window three harpies shrieked, 'We love you, Conrad,' four thousand seven hundred and twenty three times! I've had enough!" shouts Mr. MacAfee (Ron Bowland) to his pleading daughter Kim (Joyce Zerbe) as Mrs. MacAfee (Lindsay Hagen) listens attentively to her husband's complaint.

Assembling at Pennsylvania Station in New York City a group of fans bid Conrad Birdie (Darwin Harding) goodbye, as he prepares to leave for Sweet Apple, Ohio, to give Kim MacAfee their symbolic one last kiss. In the impromptu news conference that develops at the station, Albert Peterson (John Allbritten) and Rose Alvarez (Missy Cole) join in singing "A Healthy Normal American Boy."

Special Occasions Enhanced Our Year

During the football games the stand rivaled the most advertised stand and popcorn was sold.

Buying refreshments at football and basketball games was a popular feature. Truly an art gallery, hearing the Band, Belles, and the PHS Band. The PHS Band sessions were a highlight of the year. Life at PHS from start to finish.

One of the many points of interest in the history of the city is the fact that it was the first city in the world to be founded by a woman.

Reading, Writing, Speaking, Learning

"Well, let's get this panel discussion moving," prods Bill Hanson as Sophomores Bruce Miller and Ellen Bethel prepare to engage in a lively battle of wits.

Among English students' fondest memories are speech notes, copy deadlines, Friday themes, medieval terminology, and book reports.

Any student to be graduated from PHS must have a background of at least six semesters of English. Sophomores must take literature, grammar, and speech, and may take journalism, while the junior subjects are grammar and American literature. Seniors on the college entrance course are enrolled in English composition and English literature. By taking these courses, students gain a wider vocabulary, better speaking habits, and a greater interest in the literary arts. Some read the plays of Shakespeare for the first time, others learn to write headlines for the school paper, while still others learn how to make good use of the library in doing research.

Students enrolled in the salesmanship class are busy the first of the year learning the art of successful selling. The second semester is devoted to the study of business law.

"Add an inch here, take an inch there," commands Louise Schint to Bill Westcott and Mariann Wilcox as they prepare Peruvian dummies for their journalism class.

Making her final plea, Mary Lynn King displays the blouse she is trying to "sell" in salesmanship class.

Two years of history is a minimum requirement at PHS. Although much class discussion concerns current events, social studies does not depend entirely on recent events. World history is offered to either sophomores or seniors while juniors learn of their own country's birth and growth. Unless they take government and sociology in summer school, students are required by law to receive credit in these subjects during their last year.

Math Courses -- Difficult but Challenging

Hesitating momentarily, Karen Kunkle checks over her figures while Clotilda Giver and Steve Bever continue working their college algebra problems

"Sure wish I had remembered to bring my own" says Steve Clark in geometry class

Math is becoming more and more important in the fast changing world of today. Through mathematics students are shown how math is used in many different fields including engineering, drafting, architecture, astronomy, or any one of a large number of occupations. But the process of building a logical system of thought is also important, regardless of what field of work a student enters. And this is another added benefit of mathematics. It teaches students how to creatively combine ideas, and to build a logical system of thought.

Skills acquired in earlier mathematics courses such as arithmetic and algebra are extended in the more advanced studies.

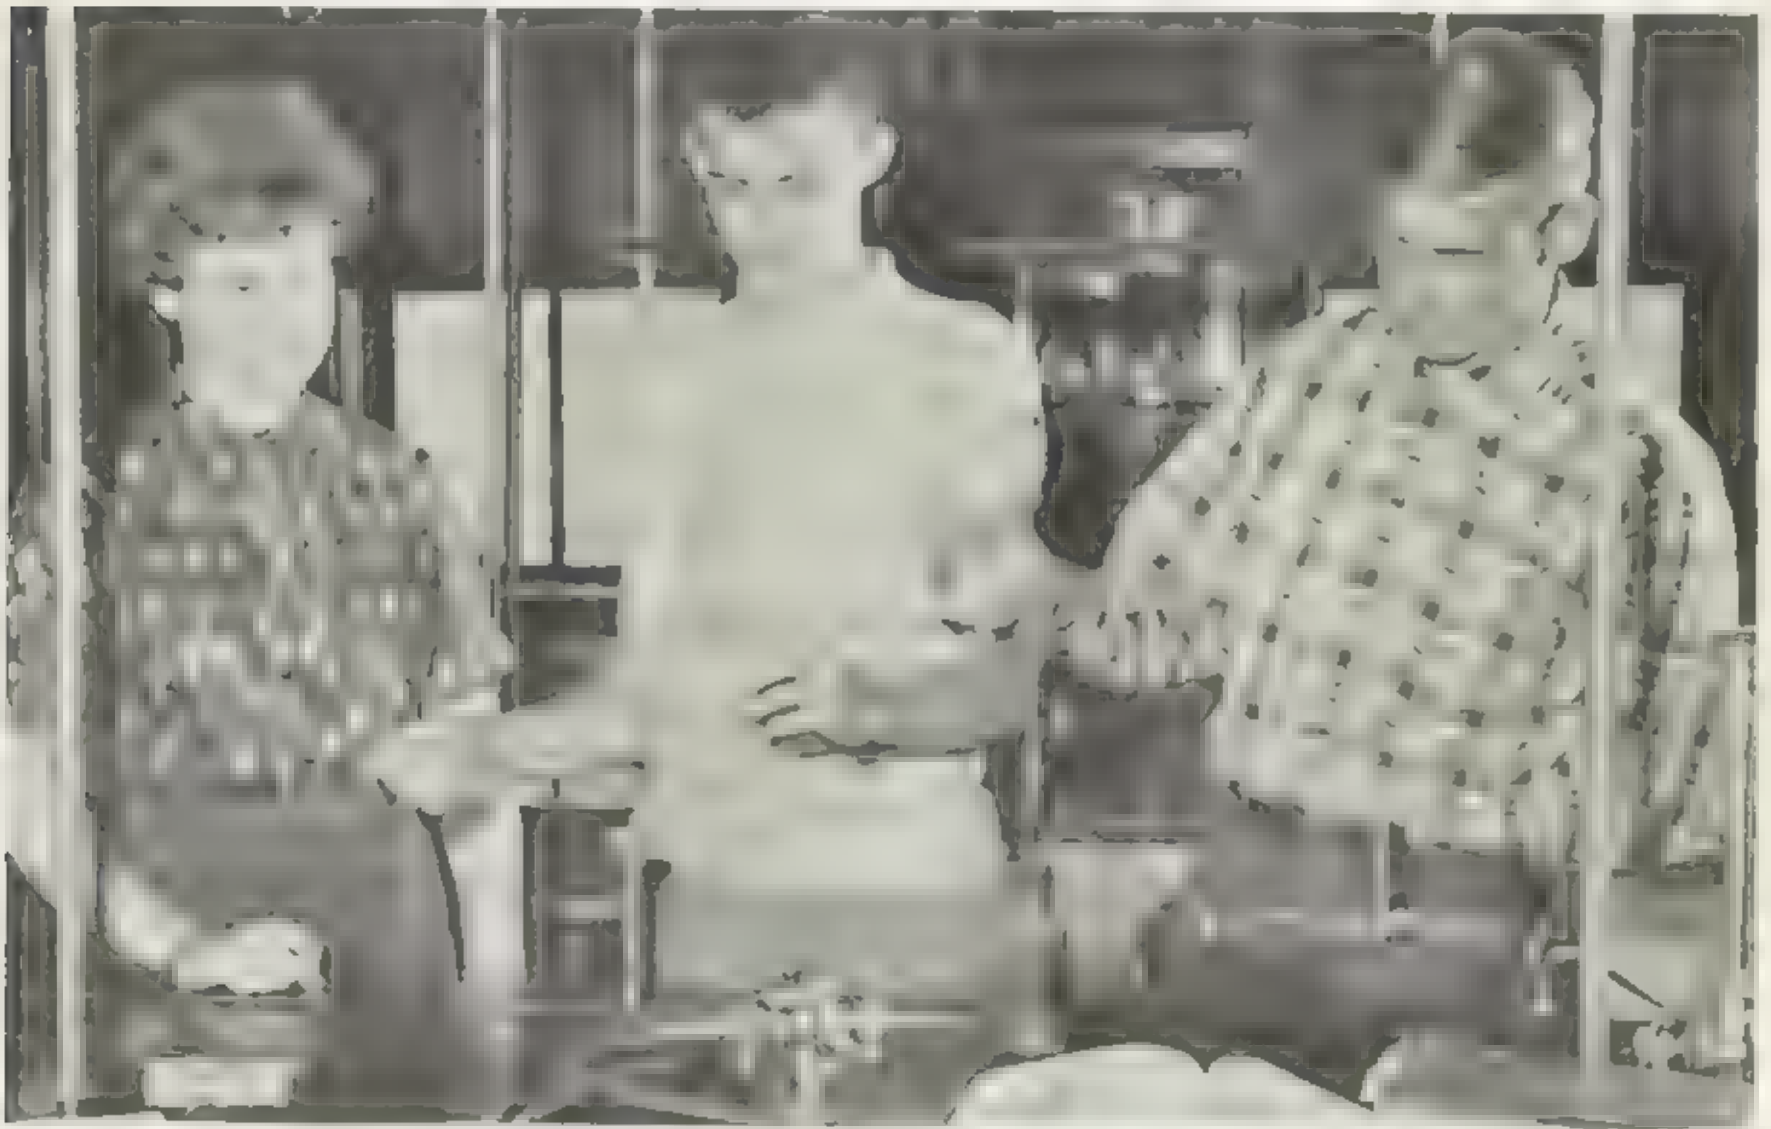

Students at PHS are offered a course in geometry. Under the guidance of Mrs. Elizabeth Ridenour, they learn how to apply theorems and corollaries and also to plan and prove constructions. The junior year means advanced algebra and the senior year brings one semester of solid geometry and another of trigonometry.

Although only algebra and geometry are required for students on the college entrance course, many pursue their interest further and take as many as eight semesters of math.

"On your mark—go." Mrs. R. J. Smith, teacher of the commercial course, directs her students in their bookkeeping exercises.

Experience Through Business Courses

The commercial course offers a great deal of experience in the field by planning to make a year in the business world. Bookkeeping prepares the student for jobs requiring accounting. Typing and shorthand, two years of each, complement each other. Second year shorthand is the transcription of shorthand into plain English, written with speed and accuracy. The student must play an important role in these courses.

Lee Ann Fishback makes rapid progress in her work with the shorthand system in bookkeeping.

The dictation machine is sometimes used in shorthand so that students may practice taking material of various needs. With training and practice, a student may obtain one of the highest paying jobs offered to women—that of private or executive secretary. PHS business courses help to give job experience.

Rushing to beat the clock, K. J. Smith, student in the shorthand course, works on her dictation.

Health and Safety Promote Good Habits

Before a student can be graduated from PHS must complete courses in health and safety. One semester is devoted to each subject.

In safety, students learn the mechanics of driving, including parking a car in a lot, and the rules on passing a car. They also learn the importance of reading a car's manual and the problems. The students are also taught the importance of driving safely and the pictures of a car's interior and the various driving techniques, and the importance of the future.

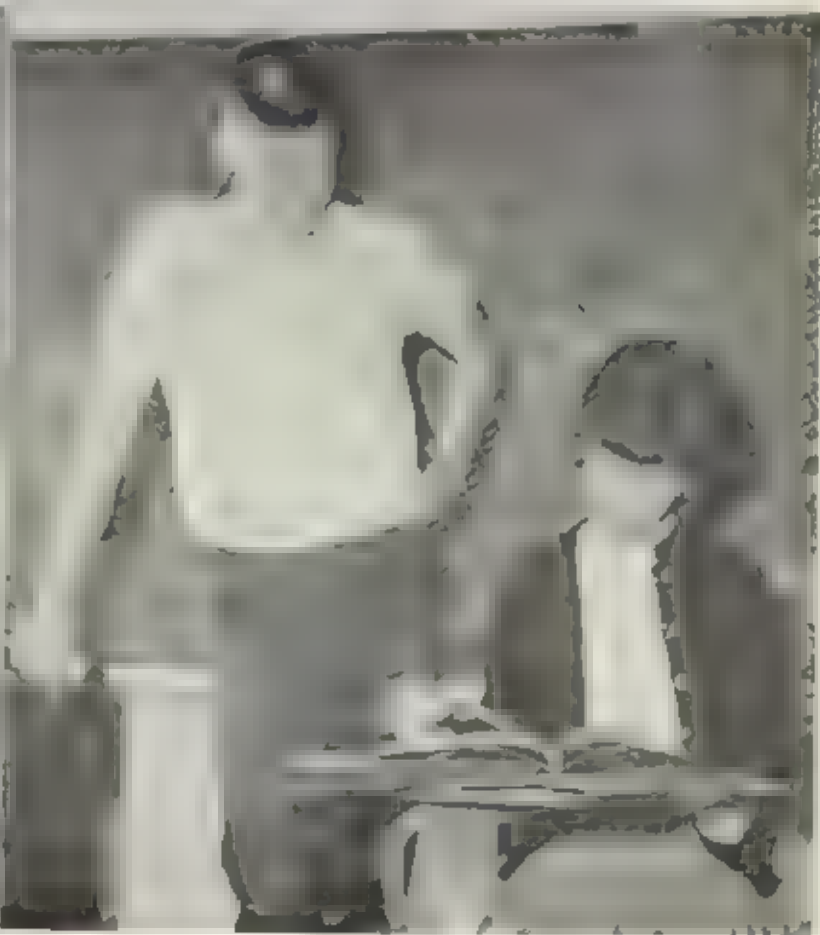

Health students learn the chief hygiene rules and study the Basic Seven chart which give pictured examples of what should be eaten each day for a well-balanced diet. Cell drawings, a skeleton, and films are used to stress the best habits for keeping the body healthy.

"Women drivers!" mutters Mr. Robert Larson as Dena Robbins looks about her "primping" while her driving instructor's impatience.

Looking through a safety notebook made by a former student, Dena Robbins shows Jim Heim why it rated A.

Students Learn To Use Skills Creatively

Many PHS boys develop skill in making articles in the woodworking department. They learn to use various tools and equipment, and to work with wood.

Drawing and design, including measurement, are a main part of creating. During the course one learns to make proportioned drawings with special tools, such as the T-square, metal ruler, compass, and many others.

In metal shop, the boys use a variety of machines for cutting metals, welding, and forming various products.

Bob Mowery tries not to err in the design of his work. He is a student in the metal shop, and he is working on a project that requires precision and attention to detail.

Under the supervision of Mr. [Name], the students learn to use various tools and equipment, and to work with metal.

This is how you operate the [Name] machine. It is a common tool used in the metal shop, and it is important to know how to use it correctly.

In Shop Classes

To major in industrial arts one must complete three years in either metal shop, printing, drafting, or woodworking and one year in any other three of these.

The first step in the process of setting type is to select the type from the type case. The type is then set in the galley and the galley is proofed.

Home Economics Utilizes Girls' Skills

Just as boys have their own special interests, girls have their own special interests. In the home economics program, girls are given the opportunity to develop their skills in a practical way.

The girls in the home economics class are learning to cook, sew, and do other household tasks. They are also learning to manage their money and to plan their time.

One of the girls in the class is Lindsay. She is a very talented girl who is learning to sew. She has made many beautiful dresses and blouses.

Lindsay is also learning to cook. She has made many delicious meals and is now helping her mother in the kitchen.

Making new outfits Lindsay sewed many beautiful outfits for herself and her friends.

"Turn on the timer." Lindsay is learning to cook and is now helping her mother in the kitchen.

All of these new magazines Lindsay is learning to manage her money and to plan her time.

Giving that extra push to push the net is Clark. Clark is a member of the physical education department.

"On your mark! Get set!" The girls are ready to start their physical education class. The girls are all members of the physical education department.

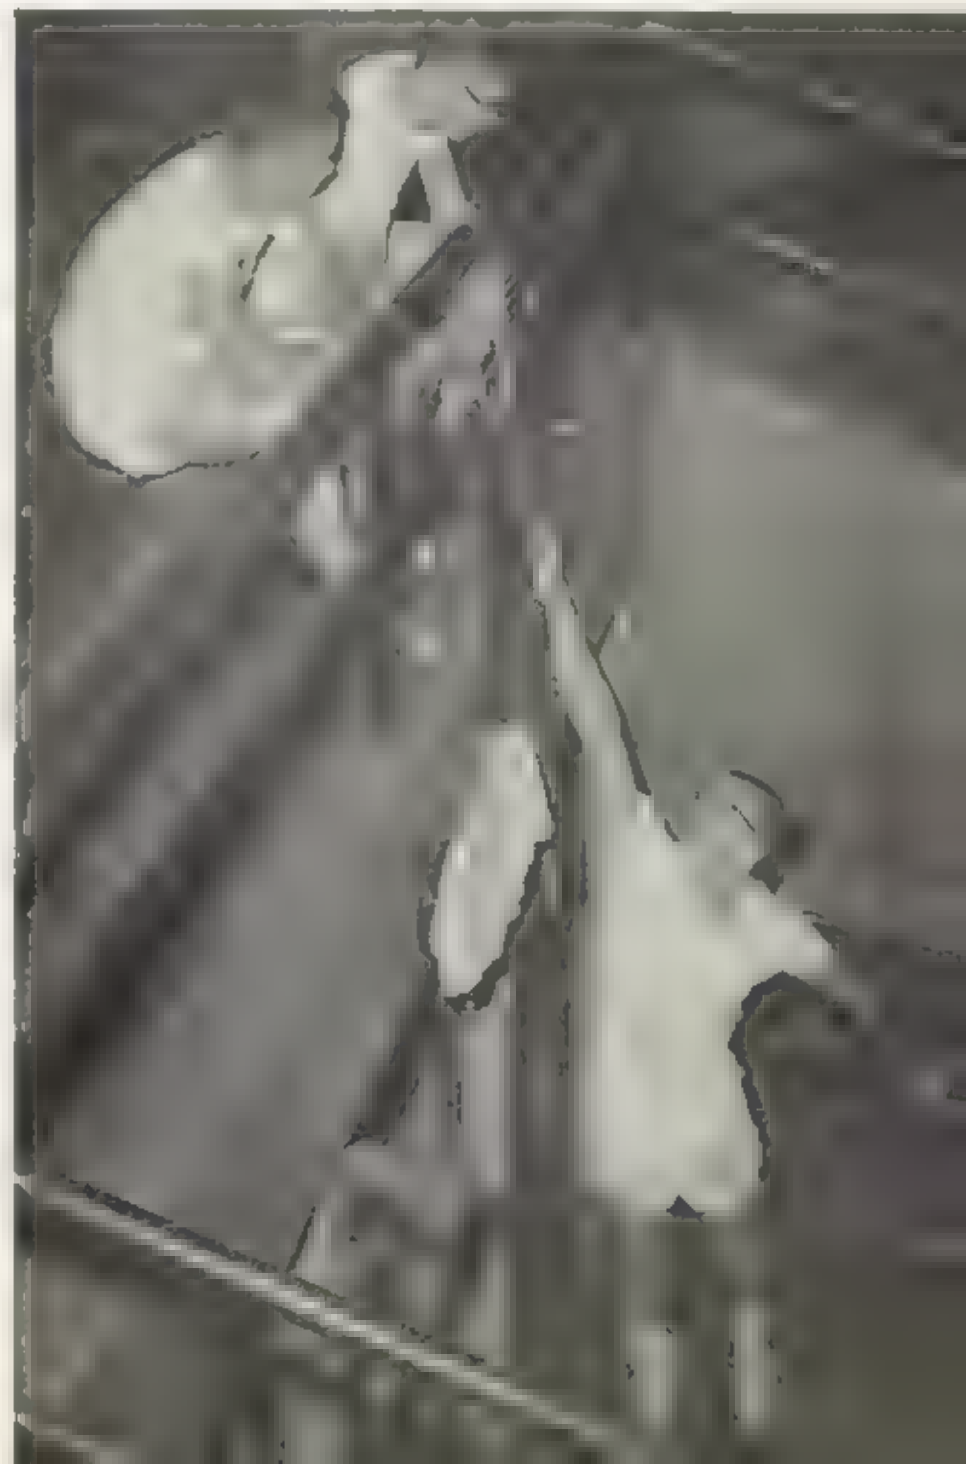

Physical Fitness is Fun for Everyone

Modern dancing was the newest attraction in the girls' physical education classes. Learning grace and body coordination, the girls portrayed trees and spring flowers to the beat of Mrs. Mary Ann S. bongo drums. The girls also kept in more strenuous activities such as volleyball, relays, and tumbling.

Boys' physical education activities were dodge ball, volleyball, basketball, and track and field. The boys also learned all the art of the game and the rules of the game.

Both boys and girls participated in the new physical education program. The boys learned all the art of the game and the rules of the game. The girls learned all the art of the game and the rules of the game. The boys learned all the art of the game and the rules of the game. PHS Principal Enjoys Rare Quiet Time Browsing through last year's Narcissus, Mr. Earl Delph, principal, and his wife Lola share memories of an active year at Peru High School. One of his duties is serving on the publications committee.

"I am especially thrilled with the opportunity of supervising the children of those who were in PHS in my earlier years." With this comment Mr. Delph finishes 22 years as principal of Peru High School.

The administrative tasks for which Mr. Delph is responsible are time-consuming. However, he always maintains a keen interest in teachers and students individually.

During the last few years after his arrival in 1936, Mr. Delph is avidly interested in the athletic fortunes of the school. He works closely with cheer leaders and coaches in developing morale and school spirit.

Academic achievement of the students are important to Mr. Delph. He believes that a well-rounded education is essential for the future of the community.

Mr. Delph's twenty-second year has seen two changes in his staff. Mrs. Rosanna Garrett, former extra-curricular bookkeeper, replaced Miss Charlotte Baker, who retired as secretary to the principal in June, 1963. Mrs. Garrett was no newcomer to the job, as she had served under Mr. Delph in the same capacity from 1942 to 1946. Mrs. Garrett was replaced by Mrs. Leah Frymire, whose job includes selling athletic and cafeteria tickets as well as keeping the books for the high school.

he gives an affirmative answer. Necessary changes in the curricular and extra-curricular programs have increased the responsibilities of the administrator.

The present generation, in Mr. Delph's opinion, is scholastically able, and socially and morally mature. He finds that he is able to talk "man-to-man" with most of his students.

Another change in the administration offices is the appointment of Mrs. Alice Moon, former teacher, as dean of girls. Mr. Noel Davis is dean of boys.

Board Decides Various School Issues

As superintendent of the Peru Community Schools, Mr. Fred Fechtman has a great many duties to perform. He must supervise the activities in all of the Peru schools, give speeches to various organizations, strive to improve the school system, and meet with the school board

Persons who are in the office of the superintendent are Mrs. Mary T. Fechtman, Mr. Fechtman's secretary, Mr. Walter L. Fechtman, assistant secretary, and Mr. Robert T. Fechtman, who works with Mr. Fechtman.

The Peru Community School Board, composed of seven members, makes decisions on many important school issues occurring during the year. One of the biggest items of business for the board members is that of deciding the teachers' salaries. Other duties of the board are overseeing the building of city schools, the contracting of teachers, and the operating of the schools in general.

In his annual address to the PHS student body, Mr. Fred Fechtman tells them what he expects them to do.

The Peru Community School Board sets policy for the schools. Seated: Mrs. Mary T. Fechtman, secretary to the school board, Mr. Fred Fechtman, superintendent, Mr. Robert T. Fechtman, assistant superintendent, Mr. Walter L. Fechtman, assistant secretary, Mr. Richard Scott, treasurer, and Mr. Herschel Wheeler, president. Standing: Mr. Edgar H. Teachers Work Behind the Scenes

Sharing ideas on team spirit

Mr. [Name] and Mrs. [Name] are seen here discussing the importance of team spirit in the classroom. They are both smiling and appear to be in a positive mood.

Asking permission for a re-take

Judy B. is seen here asking permission for a re-take. She is looking up at the teacher with a pleading expression.

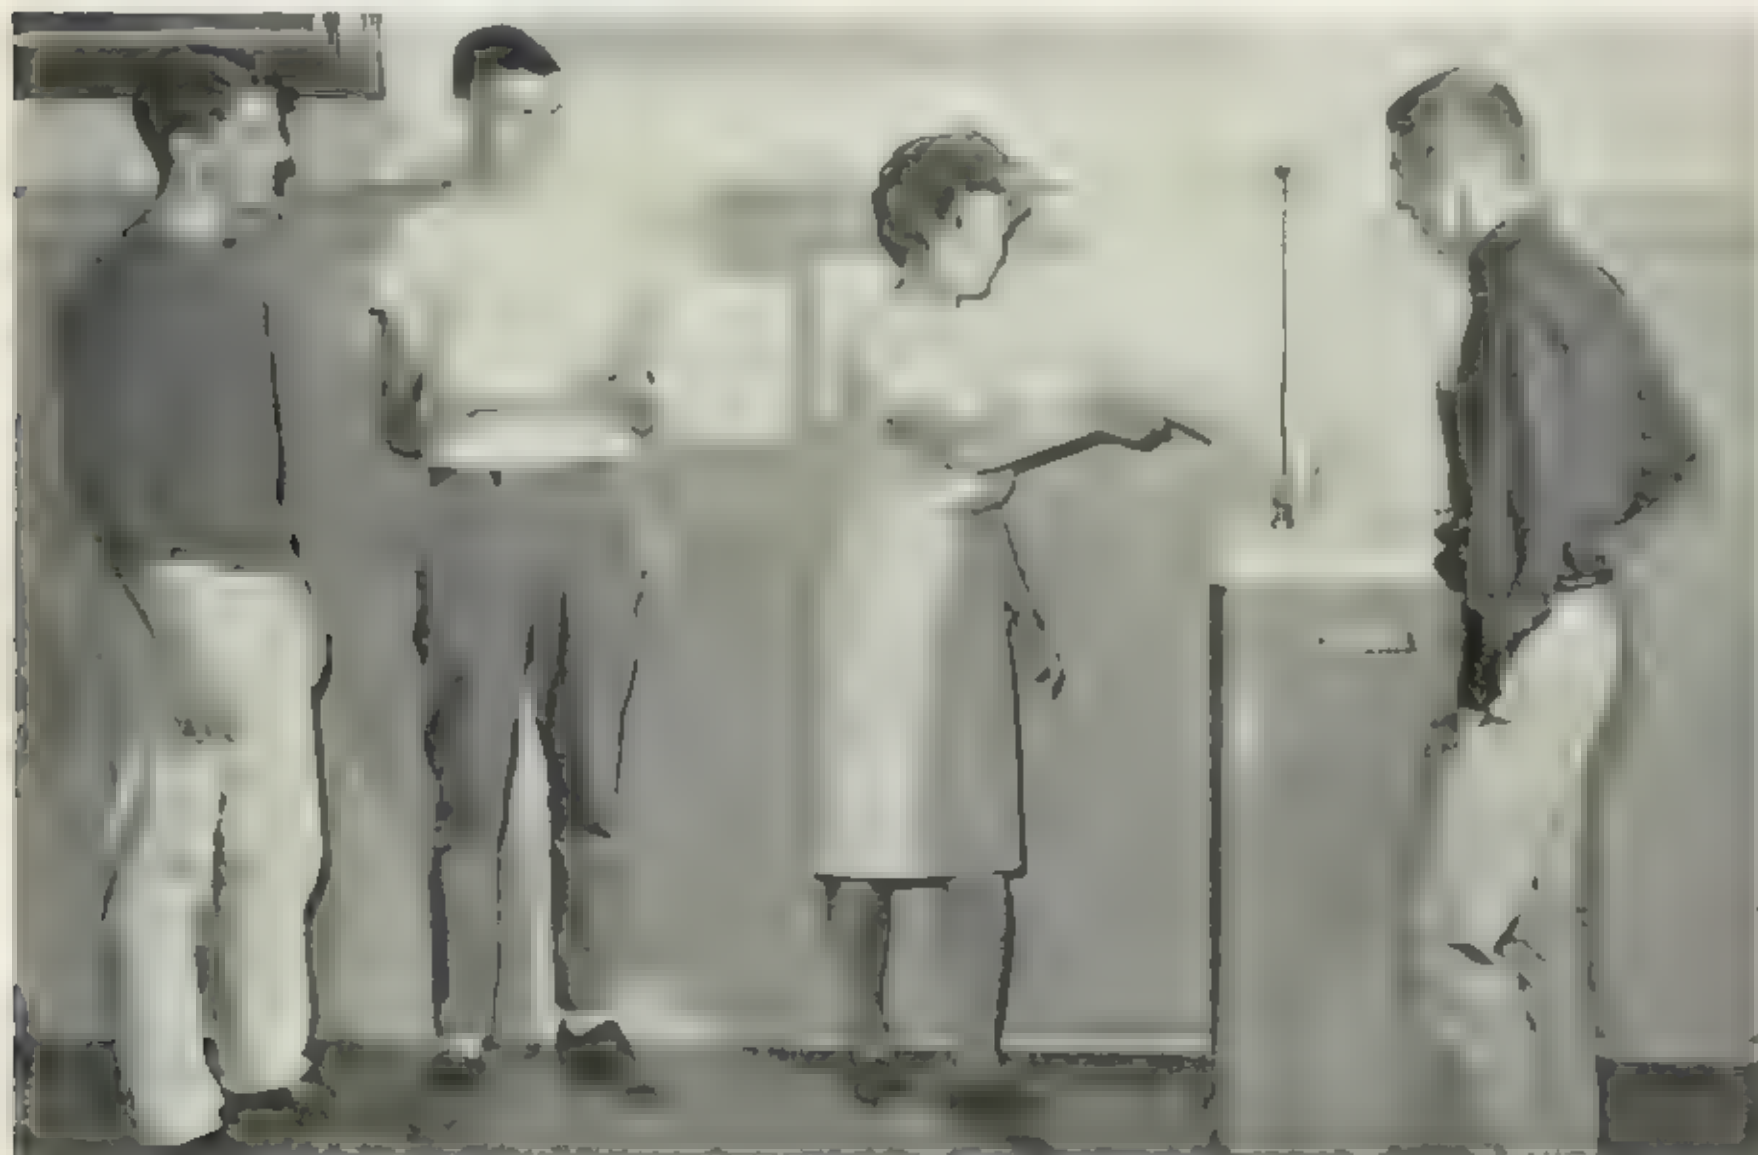

Contrary to popular belief, there are many reasons why a student might want to re-take a test. For example, a student might have been distracted during the test, or they might have been sick. Another reason could be that the student was nervous or didn't know the material well enough. It's important for educators to understand the reasons behind a student's request and to provide appropriate support.

Students seem to create many problems

Seniors: Last of Four-Year Students

"You wouldn't squirt me with that water," said Janice English, senior class secretary, of playful Nate Marburger, vice-president John Alubritten, treasurer and Leroy Pope, president also and the incident amusing.

Seniors of the 1964 graduating class were the last students to study four years at PHS. In the school year of 1960 the last of the Peru freshmen to enroll in PHS started their senior high school life. Under the new six-three-three system introduced that year, the junior high accommodated the seventh, eighth, and ninth graders; the high school was made-up of tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade students.

As freshmen, the 1964 seniors were excited about being in high school and worried about doing something wrong. To the average freshman it seemed there were a dozen upper classmen ready to correct every mistake.

Waiting until the end of the sophomore year for their class rings seemed like an eternity, but the long wait was worth it.

Finally, they became juniors, and a new group of students were "stuck" with the label of underclassmen and "greenies." The Junior Class Play, "Harvey," was presented, and the returns from it went for the Junior-Senior Prom.

With the twelfth year came privileges reserved for seniors. Wearing senior cords, occupying the front seats in auditorium, selecting senior pictures, and being measured for caps and gowns—all were part of the last year.

Their glorious reign as "the high and mighty seniors" came to a close. The senior cords so proudly worn that last year were tucked away in the far corner of the closet as a new and exciting life opened. The accomplishments of the class of 1964 belong to history.

Juniors Prepare To Reign as Seniors

At long last the juniors rose from the status of "under dogs" to that of stately upperclassmen. With this rank came the privilege of wearing class rings, joining selective clubs and serving on the Boys' and Girls' League cabinets. Their rank also brought added responsibility: decorating for the Junior-Senior Prom and acting in the Junior-Senior play.

For the juniors, the year began to look even more important, and the future not too far away. Juniors suffered through the first of many tests required for college entrance. As they closed the eleventh chapter of their school days, the class of '65 tucked away memories of a successful year at PHS, eagerly anticipating the twelfth and final chapter.

"We'll start on our diet tomorrow," vow Valorie Carson and Karen Hill as they buy candy at "Eddie's Store" while their junior classmates, Robert DeLaw and Steve Eder and Mr. Ashby look on.

Gridders Practice from Mid-August

This year's Peru football team finished the season with a winning 6-4 record. Although the team was not as successful as in previous years, they still managed to win several games. The team's record was 6-4, with 2 wins, 2 ties, and 4 losses. The team's overall record was 6-4, with 2 wins, 2 ties, and 4 losses.

A determined Wabash eleven ran circles around Peru throughout the first half. The stunned Tigers regained their bearings the second half but to no avail, the final score was 33-7.

Coach Robert Lysons's men had no difficulty disposing of Rochester and Hartford City. Both of these conference foes were dealt 33-19 defeats.

Penn's Kingmen sent the Tigers home with their most stunning loss of the season. The peevy northerners scored almost at will, taking advantage of an ineffective pass defense and running the score up to 41-6.

Peru rounded out the season with a pair of victories, 20-12 and 52-14, over Marion and Twin Lakes.

Larsonmen Plagued with Inexperience

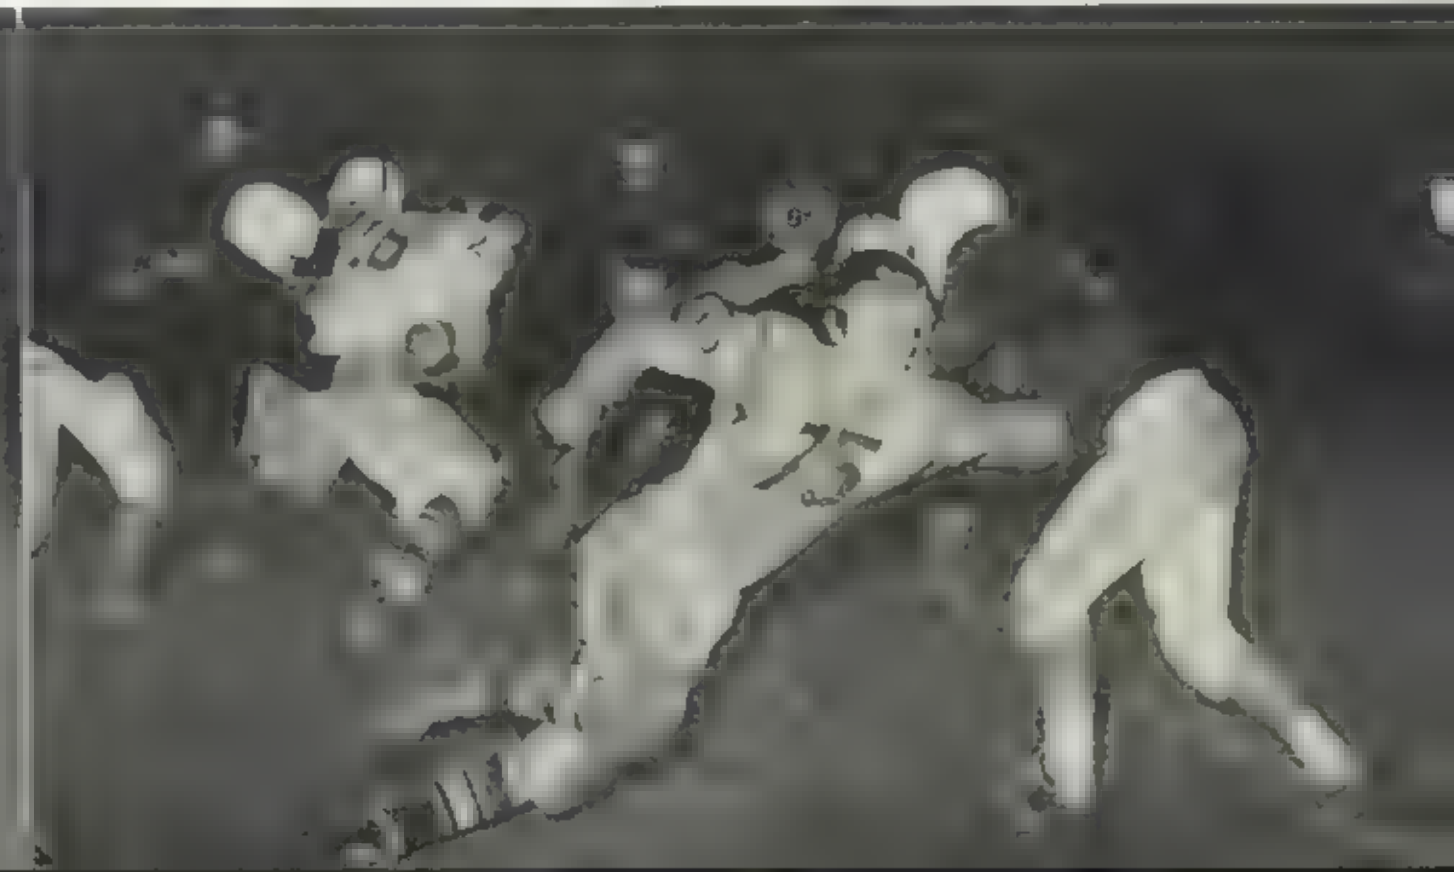

Recipients of the 1963 individual letterman award are Bill Mooney, team captain, and Bill Baker. Ex-Post Editor Bill Baker also received the award.

Several individual honors went to members of the 1963 football team. Bill Mooney, team captain, was named to the All-American team. Bill Baker, team captain, was named to the All-American team. Bill Baker, team captain, was named to the All-American team.

Tiger Harriers Compile 7-3 Record

The cross country Tigers finished a very successful season, by coming out on top in 7 out of 7 dual meets. Two meets were three-way with Peru finishing behind Logansport and ahead of Delphi in one, and ahead of both Hartford City and Tipton in the other.

Peru placed fourth in the Central Indiana Conference meet, and third in the Logansport sectional. Joe Stout's sixth place was Peru's best individual effort in the sectional.

Students Enjoy Weight-Lifting, Noon League

Bill Buffington and Larry Minns do sit-ups with 25-pound weights behind their heads an exercise designed to strengthen the stomach muscles

"Don't drop it!" says Ron Conklin to Kirk McKee and Jim Baber as they situate a 300-pound barbell for Ron to bench press

A weight training program is available to football players during the winter months to keep them in good physical condition in the off-season. Coach Robert Larson feels that the weight-lifting program can do much to prepare a football player for the following year. The weight lifters do not participate on a team or competitive basis, but rather they work to improve themselves as football players. Aside from weight lifting the boys do a great amount of calisthenics and running

The PHS intra-mural program consists of a noon basketball league. The boys, under the supervision of Mr. Robert Biddle, give up their noon hour to play. Noon League not only affords boys an opportunity to play organized basketball, but also provides entertainment for numerous spectators

In the spring a championship team is determined by means of a tournament

Two more points are scored by Greg Correll of "The Seagram's Seven," as DeWayne Buzbee, captain of the opposition, vainly tries to block his shot Getting their heads together are the Youthful Tigers. Above them are Coach Robert Biddle and Bob Rockenbaugh, Kenny I. [unclear] and [unclear].

B-Team Builds Future Varsity Players

The 1963-64 Tiger Cubs were: Kneeling: M. Wilson, S. Shafer, J. Wilson, D. Teal. Standing: R. Schmitz, D. Henry, G. Bonar, B. Schmitz.

Basil Bakehorn gets off a shot at the basket.

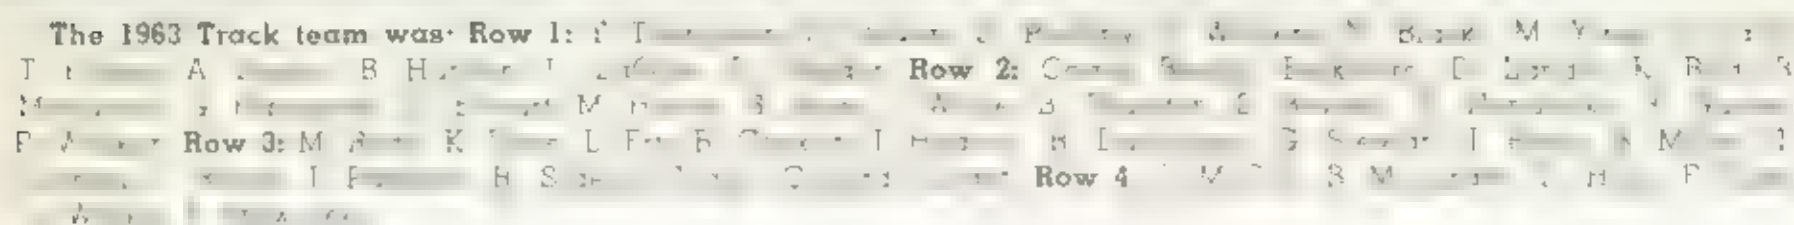

"Just try to get it," says Jerry Wilson, captain of the team, as he looks on during the game.

Necessary for a successful team are experience and depth, both of which were serious shortcomings of the Tigers this year. Jeff Henry was the only senior on the squad, and he and Junior Mike Eikenberry were the only two returning lettermen. Although this fact presented insurmountable problems this year, it means that the whole team, except for Henry, will be back next year.

Sophomore Bob Schmitz showed promise this year and displayed some fine rebounding. Gayle Bonar, a junior, transferred here from Kentucky and played his first season of PHS athletics this winter.

Juniors Kenny Day, Tom Hayes, John Hentgen, Alan Kinney and Bob Rockenbaugh also played regularly.

During 1963 two school track records were set by Fayetteville's Mike Smith. He won the state mile race and broke the record at 4:10.7. The year before he had broken the mile record at 4:18.7.

Netmen Undeclared For Fifth Season

Peru's 1963 tennis team again came through the season with an unblemished record. Their 15-0 season's record marks the fifth consecutive undefeated year, the last defeat being in 1959.

Aside from the regular scheduled 15 victor- most of which had scores of 7-0 the racket- men won three tournaments. The Number One team of Jerry Bradley and Danny Rassner out of eight teams in the Doubles Tournament, thus bringing to Peru its fifth straight victory in this tournament.

The team completely dominated the winners' berths in the Central Indiana Conference Championship Tournament. Jerry Bradley placed first in the singles division while his teammates dominated the doubles. The doubles team of Mike Eikenberry and Lee Holmes placed first in the Number One doubles division, and Kenny Oyler and Danny Rassner won the Number Two doubles.

There is no state championship tournament for tennis yet exists in Indiana, but many tennis followers can be substantiated by the Tigers' winning victory in the Col. Bishop State Invitational Tournament in which Peru out-scored second place Shortridge of Indianapolis, 18-10. In this contest Peru's Number One and Number Two doubles teams played each other in the finals to place first and second respectively.

Peru's golf team played a very successful season, compiling an 11-0 record. The linksmen failed to reach the state tournament, as they placed fifth in the sectional, and only the first four placing teams participate

Coach Jack Craycraft should have an equally good team in 1964 since the team was only slightly diminished through graduation. The Spranger twins, Harold and Gerald, and Tim Noble were the only seniors on the team. Only five boys participated in each match. The top five players were usually chosen from among Harold Spranger, Gerald Spranger, Jerry King, Park Cutler, Tim Noble, Eddie Cowan, and John Greenfield

Girls Also Have Athletic Opportunities

The Girls' Athletic Association (GAA) was organized last year to provide girls with a place to play sports. The GAA has a number of teams, including basketball, volleyball, and tennis. The GAA also has a number of individual sports, including track and field, swimming, and golf. The GAA is a great place for girls to get involved in sports and to have fun.

Mrs. Mary Ann Sullivan, GAA sponsor, has organized a girls' track team. The team will compete in track and field events at various locations in the area. If the team is successful, it will be Peru High School's first girls' track team.

Others in GAA are basketball, volleyball, and tennis. The GAA also has a number of individual sports, including track and field, swimming, and golf. The GAA is a great place for girls to get involved in sports and to have fun.

Peruvian Covers Happenings at PHS

"Will this issue be the last one published by the Peruvian staff?" asked a student. "No," answered the editor. "It will be the first of many more to come."

An ambitious group of students has taken over the Peruvian paper. Because of the shortage of qualified staff members, the paper is headed by two editors, one male and one female. They are necessarily doing a dual job. Hagen and Jean Wallace.

The many hours of work involved in the paper consisted of writing, editing, reading copy and taking it to the printing writing stones, editorials and letters and making up the pages.

The Peruvian staff adviser is Mr. Philip Fox.

Pride is evident in the work of these students. They are proud of their paper and of the work they are doing. They are proud of the fact that they are the first Peruvian staff to have a paper.

"Let's see what's left me," said a student. "Let's see what's left me," said a student. "Let's see what's left me," said a student. "Let's see what's left me," said a student.

The Belles have completed their fourth year at PHS. This recently-organized, all-school group consisted of fifty-two persons. The officers of the Belles are Cathy Wise, president; A. J. Secretary, John English, manager; Beverly Black, librarian; and L. Jackson, student director.

The Choir consists of a mixed group of forty-eight vocalists. The officers of the Choir are Ronnie Bowland, student director; John Allbritten, president; Marty Erlenbaugh, manager; Ronnie Williams, secretary, and Janice English, librarian.

These two singing groups had a busy year. In the fall, both organizations sang in the Rodeo. At the Thanksgiving auditorium, sponsored by the Boys' League, the choir sang several numbers. The Belles and Choir both appeared in part of the program at the Christmas auditorium and led the student body in singing.

The choir participated in many of the Christmas festivities at the auditorium. They also performed at several civic organizations in the community. After hours of practice they presented their annual Christmas and Spring Concerts. This year the Three-Way Music Festival took place at Marion; members of the Peru High School music department and members of the music department of Kokomo High School were the guests of Marion High School.

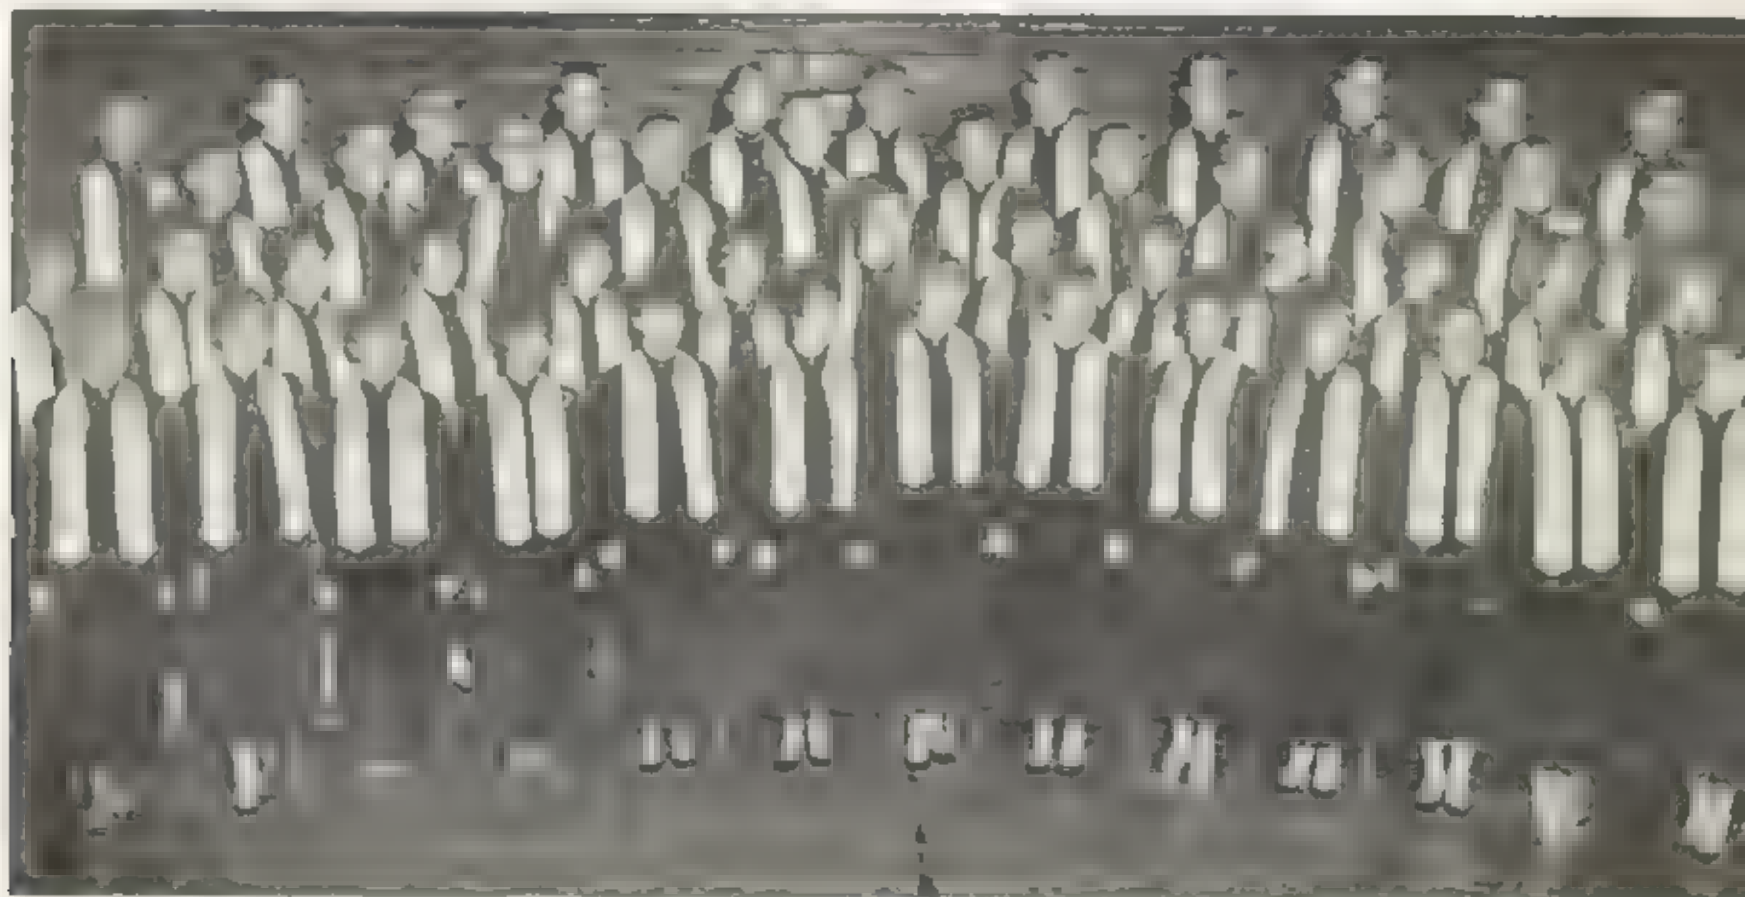

The Choir will be under the direction of Mr. James E. Noble.

The marching Tiger Band entertained the pep sessions with their spirited music. After the playing of each song the band played the national anthem. They also gave several performances at football games at Ball State Teachers College and Butler University.

The Stage Band accompanied several of the Rodeo acts with music composed by Cole Porter, and the Pep Band provided spirited music at the Friday afternoon pep sessions.

Members of the Concert Band and the Wind Ensemble played at the Christmas and Spring Concerts. Band members also traveled to Marion to participate in the Three-City Festival, the last high school performance for senior members.

Working as officers of the Band were Dale Ramsey, student director; Ronnie Bowland, captain; John Allbritten, 1st lieutenant; Dave Wright, 2nd lieutenant; Leroy Pope, manager; Oliver Goodwin, assistant manager, and Diana Mitchell, librarian.

WE'RE BRINGING PROGRESS TO NORTHERN INDIANA!

Wherever a GAS line goes . . . PROGRESS automatically follows. GAS is the miracle ingredient that awakens industry to its full potential Dependable GAS is a versatile, low-cost fuel for commercial establishments. Silent, clean GAS opens a new door to better living through heating water heating, clothes drying, cooking and refrigeration. GAS means more plants, more jobs, and more wages. And, that all adds up to PROGRESS and prosperity for the people living in the territory we serve!

Having Kept In Step

Fading into the distance with their footsteps marking time, yearbook chiefs Bunny Pier and Ruth Angle, with their adviser Mrs. Keith, bid "au revoir" to a year of hard work and even heartier fun.

The 1350 hours of this school year of 1964 have come to an end. We have many happy memories to always remember. This yearbook is only a sampling of these memories of PHS students "Keeping In Step."

We owe tremendous thanks to many people. First of all, we wish to thank our entire staff for their effort and hard work. We say "thanks" to Mr. Charles Mueller of the Ropkey Engraving Company, who patiently assisted us with the layout; to Mr. Jack Bundy of the S. K. Smith Company, who advised us on our cover design and color; to Mr. and Mrs. William Manmiller of the Sentinel Printing Company and "all of the gang over there," especially Mr. Earl Winters, our compositor. We sincerely appreciate Mr. Winters' understanding patience when we broke the bad news about incorrect page numbering.

We thank Mr. Philip Fox for all of his much-asked-for and much-used advice, as the circulation adviser and close friend of the staff. Homeroom 216 also deserves our thanks for their aid in circulation matters, a complicated, but well-done job.

We extend a very heartfelt thanks to Mr. Earl Delph and the entire faculty for their patience and cooperation when we interrupted the scheduled classes.

We owe a very special thanks to Mr. John Waltz, whose wit and humor carried us through many a long, weary day of picture taking. On the third try, we finally got the underclass pictures completed. Mr. Waltz was more than worth all the cookies we had to feed him to keep him happy. Thanks again to Mr. Waltz.

We also owe a deep debt of gratitude to Sally Hemrick, who worked "above and beyond the call of duty." She helped us with many extra chores which needed only her special touch.

Especially, we owe our deepest thanks, which words can not express, to our adviser, Mrs. Russell Keith. Her understanding advice, never-failing assistance, hard work, and ability to keep us "on the ball," we deeply appreciate and will never forget. We will miss her very much when we leave these halls of ivy.

Mary,
So a real girl behind me in 6th
period study hall.
May you find all your good attempts fortune in all Luck Always Norma "66" or Bust
(Pop)

Mary,
You have always been friends. I hope one of my nicer friends. We you'll always have good luck. As seniors should tear us up next year. As seniors we should have a very good class. I hope our graduation and dance will be nice.
Lotsa Luck!
Don "1965"
(no sweat)

Mary.
So a nice girl & a nut.
The best of luck in the future.
Carol "65"

Mary.
This is the first year that I met or knew you, but I we've had a lot of fun in Study Hall except for Sidney.
Best of luck in your Senior Year, and don't get Harrison too mad at ya.
Best of luck always with Bob Morris "64"

Mary.
We have. We're real friends now and I hope long time and stay as sweet as you are. Good luck
Linda "65"

Mary.
You're a real nice girl and a lot of fun. I've enjoyed being a friend of yours this year. I hope to see you again next year.
Lots of luck.

Best of luck always
Angela

Mary Ellen we've been friends for a long time - I hope nothing will ever change that stay as sweet and cheery and you are now as I know
life will be kind to you.
Best of luck, always
Mona Sutton
"65"

Mary, so much better to you always you a real sweet girl and fellow senior to be.
Best wishes

Mary - always. Let's hope of luck always. Let's really know in it next year as senior. May sweet!
Luck always -
